Set Up Personal Suggestions to Students on a Class Bookshelf

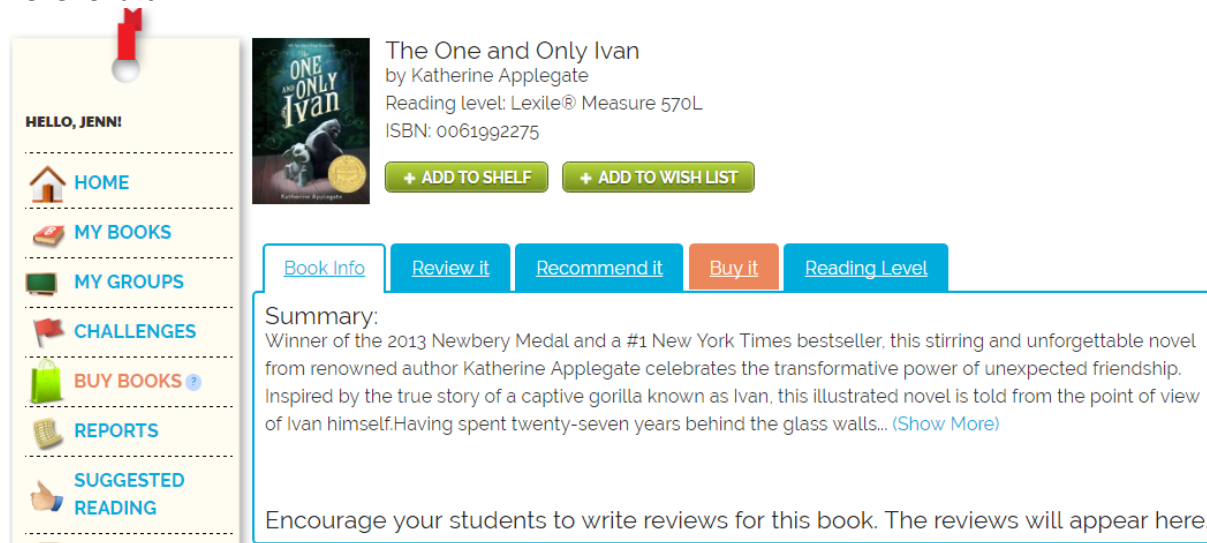

You can add books to your class book shelf.

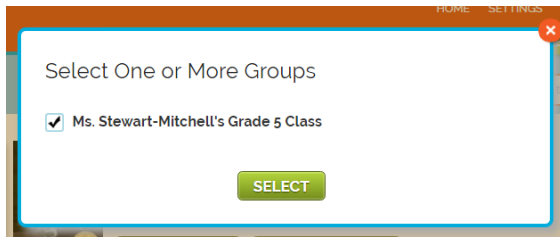

Search for books that are part of the selected novels for this unit.

Notice that when a selected book comes up, the Lexile Reading level is given. You can check the correlation to Guided Reading levels by choosing the Reading Level tab and reviewing the Reading Level Chart.

Then add to your class shelf. You will have to select one or more groups.

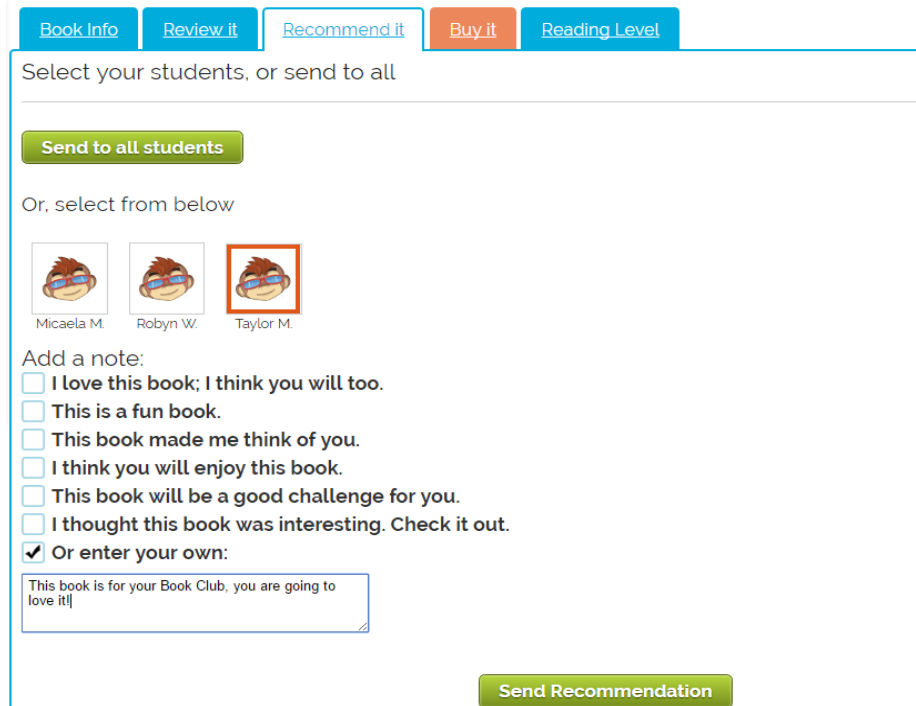

Teachers may: Review Book Information, review the book for your students, recommend it to students, or examine the Reading Level information for each book.

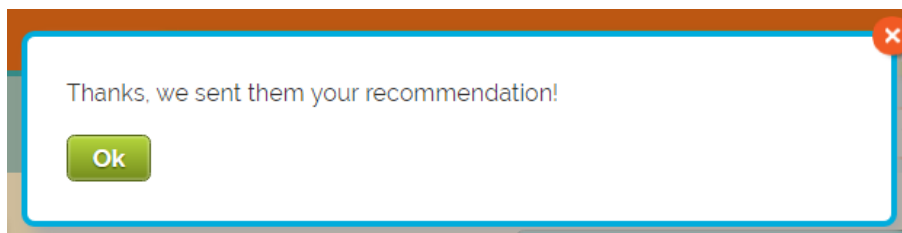

Be sure to take some time to review books that you recommend or require for classroom thematic units. Model for students how to do a Book Review, as they will be doing so as well over the course of the unit (and potentially over the course of the year).

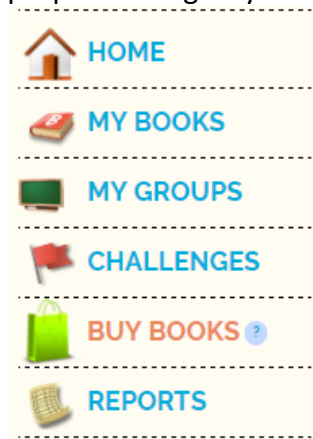

You can also Recommend particular books that you want specific students to read. This will be what you do for the Book Clubs.

Students will then get a recommendation on their shelf from you.

Set up Reading Challenges for Your Students. You may wish to do this as part of your book clubs. Reading challenges can be small groups, with select numbers of students or for the whole class. The purpose is to give you updates on the student progress.

Click on Start a New challenge

Select students to take part in the challenge or select all students. Be sure to name your challenge and select the books for the challenge. Then Save it.

Books that you suggest for each student's challenge, will appear under the challenges Tab

Students will need to add the books that you suggest for their challenge to their Reading Log.

Teachers can check the progress of students as they read. As logs are visible and student book reviews, this allows teachers to be able to engage and encourage students in their reading.

Student Activity in Biblionasium

Biblionasium is an opportunity for students to exercise Digital Citizenship in a safe environment as they share their love of books and get encouragement to read from teachers and peers.

Biblionasium Honors Code

Be honest
Don't cheat yourself and don't lie to your friends. Only log what you read.

Be safe
Don't share any private information about yourself with anyone on this website. Don't use your real name with people you don't know.

Be kind
Don't say hurtful things to others. Respect other people's opinions and suggestions.

Remember to have fun and read!

So far I really like it. My favorite part was Bob the dog. He is a cute character who has many funny lines.

Stories about Friendships

Your Review

I really liked Wonder. At times there were parts that I found really sad, especially with how the other kids treated Auggie. The characters were really believable even though I have never met anyone with congenital facial abnormality. I couldn't imagine how hard it would be to have the courage to go to school knowing that kids might treat you differently.

This book would be really beneficial for kids to read because even if we don't have a special condition like Auggie we are all different in some way, which is actually a good thing!

Although this book is a long one, it didn't seem like it. It was really easy to get into this book.
